Festival Popularity Contest Announces First Entries

Six local organizations are the first to enter the annual Greenbelt Festival Popularity Contest, which reaches its climax on Labor Day Eve when the winner is crowned Queen of the Festival and is featured in the parade the next day. Second and third place winners are named princesses.

Early entries include Jane Brooks entered as Miss American Legion, Frances Caldwell as Miss Lions Club, Beverly Meir as Miss Credit Union, Mary Barcus as Miss Greenbelt Homes, and Peggy Hyland as Miss Little League. The Ben Franklin Store is also an entry but has not yet named its candidate.

Contestants are limited to unmarried girls who are between the ages of 16 and 25 as of August 31. A contestant cannot represent two organizations, but auxiliaries are not considered a separate organization. No entries will be accepted after midnight on August 20 in order to provide equal publicity for all candidates.

Each candidate gains one vote for each penny contributed in her name prior to September 2 at 11 p.m. However, each penny contributed prior to 9 p.m. on August 15 will be counted as two votes. Similarly the $10 entry fee which must accompany each entry will start the candidate with 2000 votes if submitted prior to August 15 but only 1000 votes if submitted after that date.

The official voting containers will be displayed in High's Store in the shopping center until 9 p.m., August 15, when they will be collected for the initial tallying. After that date, they will be displayed at High's or some other location in the center. Organizations wishing to enter the contest should contact Popularity Contest Chairman Beverly G. Fonda, 6-A Ridge Road, GR 4-6409.

STORE PLANS REVEALED

The S. Klein Department Store, to be located at the Beltway Plaza, is scheduled for operation early in 1963. Kleins, in operation for over 56 years, has four stores including the original "S. Klein on the Square" at Union Square, New York City, as well as stores in Hempstead, Long Island; Yonkers, New York; and Newark, New Jersey.

The thirty-year lease just executed for the Klein store calls for 320,000 square feet of store area, including two floors and a basement, a greenhouse, outdoor sales area, etc. Sidney J. Brown President of First National Realty Corporation, represented the lessor for the signing of the lease, which took place in the office of Governor J. Millard Tawes. The President of Klein's, Philip S. Harris, executed on behalf of the Department Store.

The Beltway Plaza is expected to be the first shopping plaza of its kind in the Washington area with an enclosed mall that is fully air-conditioned, and one of the largest and most attractive in the Metropolitan area. The First National Realty Corporation is the developer. Architects for the Shopping Center is the firm of Lathrop Douglas.

The first section at Beltway has been in operation since February 3, 1962. Negotiations are in progress for the leasing of additional stores, such as: W. T. Grant, F. W. Woolworth, G. C. Murphy, S. S. Kresge, Thom McAn, Brown Shoe Co., Loft Candy, Edison Bros., the Richman Brothers Clothing, American Oil Co., Hot Shoppes, and scores of others.

Eleanor Roosevelt to Participate In City Anniversary Celebration

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will visit Greenbelt on Tuesday, October 23, to participate in the city's 25th anniversary celebrations, it was announced by Harry Zubkoff, chairman of the Silver Anniversary Committee. Arrangements for the visit were made by Bruce Bowman for the Co-op Education Council, representing all the cooperatives in Greenbelt. Mrs. Roosevelt is coming here under the auspices of the American Association for the United Nations, of which she is chairman of the board.

Greenbelt, conceived and built during the first two terms of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, was considered one of the Roosevelt's favorite projects. Mrs. Roosevelt has shown a continuing interest by previous visits to Greenbelt and the Silver Anniversary Committee felt it appropriate to ask her to share in the city celebration by addressing the citizens.

October 23 is Tuesday of United Nations week, during which Mrs. Roosevelt will appear in other Maryland cities such as Annapolis, Frederick, and Hagerstown. A local chapter of the American Association for the United Nations is being organized in Greenbelt at the present time.

Swiss Cooperators To Visit Greenbelt

One hundred members of the Swiss Consumer Cooperative Movement will visit Greenbelt tonight as part of their tour of cooperatives in America. This is the second group of Swiss Cooperators to visit Greenbelt this year. The overseas guests have visited several of the Greenbelt Consumer Services supermarkets in the Washington area.

Dinner at the Methodist Church will precede a program of entertainment at the Youth Center. On hand to extend a welcome, on behalf of the City of Greenbelt will be Mayor Francis White and City Manager Charles McDonald. Benjamin Rosenzweig, GCS president, will speak for that organization.

Twin Pines Savings and Loan Association will be represented by Jim Cassels, and Jim Beck will represent the Credit Union. The GHI board is unable to participate because of a special meeting scheduled for the same date.

The GCS Area Delegation will meet with the visitors at dinner and accompany them to the Youth Center afterwards.

Albert K. Herling, substituting for Vaclav Majer who is attending a convention in Chicago, will be master of ceremonies.

GHI Members Complain Of Barrier in Court

by Larry Fink

Apparently striving to maintain an air of cordiality, the GHI Board met at a special meeting on July 26. Prior to the meeting, a complaint was registered by three families residing in the 26 court of Ridge. They stated that "an insurmountable barrier" an un gated meshwire fence, had been placed across the sidewalk, by one of the residents. This, they claimed, was a hazard to their children, as it made it necessary for them to use the street as a passageway from their home to a nearby playground. The manager was asked to look into the situation and report to the Board.

As part of the special meeting the dissolution of Greenbelt Senior Homes Inc. was discussed. Apparently not being able to reach a common ground for an agreement, the board voted to table the motion.

The remainder of the meeting was spent discussing such items as a Labor Day Float for the City of Greenbelt parade, the advisability of developing standards by the Standards and Improvement Committee for free standing and retaining walls and of having non-GHI members on appointed and elected committees.

Bruce Bowman Takes New Co-op Position

Bruce Bowman has been named general manager of River Park Cooperative, according to Edward A. Burgoon, vice-president and director for the promotion, sales organization, and management of the cooperative.

River Park is a cooperative development of town houses and apartments nearing completion in Southwest Washington. When completed, it will be sold to River Park Mutual Homes, Inc., a cooperative organization formed by the FCH Company and sponsored by the Potomac Cooperative Federation and trustees of the Foundation for Cooperative Housing. The 10-acre site is being leased from the D. C. Redevelopment Land Agency.

Designed by Charles M. Goodman Associates, River Park will have an 8-story fireproof, elevator apartment building of contemporary design, consisting of 384 apartments, plus 134 town houses with private gardens.

Bowman, leaving government employ after thirteen years, is returning to co-op employ and experience in co-ops dating back over 25 years. He is a past Director of GHI and of Twin Pines and has served on the board of Rapidan Camp Co-op, among other co-op activities. He and his family will continue to reside at 14-Z-3 Ridge.

Youth Seeks to Serve

Dr. Jekyll or Mr. Hyde? Which is the face of our Greenbelt youth?

We must admit that our local young people presented a contradictory image last week. There were the two instances of mayhem on the roof of the Youth Center and the shattering of the store window in the Center, both ugly expressions of destructiveness. On the other hand, enthusiastic reports are reaching us of a new, constructive attitude among the membership of the Teen Club. Under recreation director James Wooldridge, they have recently formed the Greenbelt Service Club, with the aim of providing help and service wherever these may be needed — to city, to country, and to the worldwide community of nations. They are interested in projects of civic betterment; they plan as a group to share future social events with orphans and other deprived youngsters; and they will work activities sponsored by UNICEF.

Greenbelt adults have provided the young people of this city with a marvelous recreational plant and a well-run recreational program. But in giving to those they love, they have not (and could not have) given everything. Left undone are many jobs of service to others, and our teen-aged citizens are beginning to fill this vacuum. Soon they will find for themselves that age-old truth — that the greatest gift comes to the one who gives to others. It is truly more blessed to give than to receive.

Your "Lip" Wanted

To the Editor:

The Greenbelt Concert Band is trying to increase its membership. We who are members are appreciative of the opportunity to aid culture and proud of the fact that we can participate in rendering a service to the community.

In conversing with both past members and non-participants, I have discovered that most have a misconception of the essential playing required. We are endeavoring to improve our abilities through the valuable practice that these weekly rehearsals afford us. I for one didn't touch my clarinet for ten years prior to my entering the band. True, 'twas a little embarrassing to hit "klunkers", but the more I practice the better by "lip" becomes.

Members forfeit two hours a week of their time for rehearsals. To afford the two hours sometimes seems impossible, but somehow we manage to gather at the Youth Center every Monday night at eight. Here we see familiar faces, enjoy air conditioning, and add to community spirit. From this we derive an emotional outlet and relaxation.

At present we are in need of trumpets, trombones, French horns, flutes, piccolos, bassoons, oboes, tubas, clarinets, and cornets. What instrument do you play? I hope to see you Monday night. Come down and renew old friendships. After one rehearsal, we will all be friends.

Rude Teenagers

To the Editor:

I was involved in an incident recently with some teen-age boys at the Center which has upset me enough to express my feelings openly. It started on the Fourth of July when, as a member of the Ladies Auxiliary for the Greenbelt Fire Department, I was working on the refreshment truck at the lake. A group of boys started to call out my first name. I tried to ignore the incident until one of the boys carelessly flung a popsicle stick in my direction. I got off the truck and told the boys to move on. These boys were on the road when I got into my car with my children later. Again the calling of my first name.

The other evening, I was walking through the Center with my youngest child when I again heard the same call. I went over to the group and asked who was that familiar that he could use my first name. Of course, the boys denied doing so. It must have been some other guys, was their answer. I will say that they were not vulgar or obscene in their actions. But to me I consider what they did as very rude, defiant mocking and disrespectful.

I am not an ogre. I definitely can remember my own youth. I am trying to understand the workings of the mind of the adolescent. I have one adolescent child, myself and three younger ones. I am trying to raise my children to be good citizens. Yet I feel that youngsters should not feel that all they get out of life is the feeling that they are being dictated to. They want freedom. We all do, but it is our duty to teach our young people that they must earn their freedom by being honest, decent, respectful and respected. And as parents, we must set the examples before them.

Co-op Institute Report

by Ethle Rosenzweig

July 15-21, at Hobart College, Geneva, New York, was a most memorable and fun-packed week individuals attending the Institute will agree. It was loaded with inspiring lectures and thought-provoking ideas given by well-known personalities in the Co-op world; i.e., Judge Dorothy Kenyon, David H. Scull, J. K. Stern, President, American Institute of Cooperation, Washington, D. C., and Professor Louis Goldstein, Assoc. Professor at Bryn Mawr College, Pennsylvania.

Every morning Professor E. William Muehl, of Yale, inspired us with his key-note talks on "Cooperation in a Changing Society".

The afternoons were free for sight-seeing tours to Corning Glass Works, Cayuga Lake, and the Gold Seal Winery, and in the evening from 8:30-9:30 p.m. were round tables for those in search of more inspiring insights into cooperation. After 9:30 there was evening entertainment of singing, square and folk dancing, under the competent recreation leader the Institute has been most fortunate to obtain. Mrs. Dorothy Siftar, from the Co-op Recreation Association, is a young woman of boundless energy, who had a way of communicating with people through music and dancing.

Through her efforts on Friday night, the group presented a "Gay Nineties" talent show, which was such a tremendous success that she was given a standing ovation by the participants. All the men present sported handle-bar mustaches, and the ladies wore gayly decorated paper-plate bonnets in keeping with the theme.

Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., the Institute members attended the Annual meeting of the Association, and the following were elected as officers: Ben Rosenzweig, President (Potomac Area); Mrs. Sarah Newman, Vice-President (Potomac Area); Frank Anastasio, Treasurer (Mid-Eastern Area); and Roy Helander (New England Area).

For the first time in the history of the Institute, four board members of GCS were present. They were: Ben Rosenzweig, President; Giff Hoag, Vice-President; Don Cooper, Secretary; and Sol Hoke, as well as Bob Dressel, Speaker of the Co-op Congress. Also it was the first time that a President of GCS participated for the entire week.

I hope that by this article I have been able to make people regret that they could not attend, and perhaps see their way clear to attend next year.

Any individual desiring to become a member of the Cooperative Institute Association may do so by mailing their annual dues of $5.00 to Frank Anastasio, Treasurer, c/o Mid-Eastern Cooperatives Inc., Medi Lane, Lodi, New Jersey.

FISHING RODEO AT LAKE

Greenbelt Lake was the scene of the Annual Fishing Rodeo put on by the Prince Georges County Recreation Department. An estimated 1000 children took part in the contest, including children from the Greenbelt Day Camp. Prizes of fishing tackle were awarded to the youngsters who caught the smallest, largest, and greatest number of fish. There was also a prize for the one who looked most like Huck Finn. The Rodeo lasted from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., with various children's games available.

GHI GIANTS WIN SERIES

By Bud Dean

The 11th Annual City series of the Greenbelt Little League is now a thing of the past, as last Saturday and Sunday at McDonald Field the American League Champs, the G.H.I. Giants, squared off with the National League Champs, the Indians. This was a best 2 out of 3 games series, and both managers Bruce Feltner of the G.H.I. Giants and Moe Shegogue of the Indians went all out to bring home the bacon.

The first game on Saturday was a wild and woolly one, with the G.H.I. Giants led by Mike Brant, who had a field day, belting 2 homers, a single and a well dropped bunt for 4 for 4 for the day. Mike Jones also belted one for a homer, and with a good lead - Hillebrand chucking for the Giants - kept the Indians in tow, although he was hit hard but not enough to catch up with the Giants. G.H.I. Giants 17 - Indians 7.

In the second game on Sunday, with the 2 top pitchers going - Mike Jones for the G.H.I. Giants and Gordon Wayne for the Indians - it was a far different game from Saturday. The Giants took a 2-run lead, and then Wayne pounded a fast ball over the right field fence for a home-run, making the score 2 to 1. The Indians tied it up in the 3d, and the Giants went ahead 3 to 2 with some timely hits. The Indians again tied it up when Loveless belted a long single with one man on base. The score stayed 3 to 3 going into the sixth, with both pitchers tossing fine ball and both teams making good plays. In the top of the sixth - with one out - Bergin walked and went to second on a ground ball to the pitcher. Hillebrand lashed a single, scoring

Lassie League News

By Ray Hudson

Wednesday - The Giants, fighting to stay in second place, tangled with the Lions and behind the 6-hit pitching of Pat Coulter, the Lions in the upset of the week made it rough on the Giants by winning a real big one. Fowler and Marion of the Lions showed the way, with each belting a home run. Barbara Hudson of the Giants tried to keep them in the game with a long homer. Lions 13 - Giants 8.

Friday - The league-leading Athletics, still showing the way, took on the second place Giants, who have run into some tough luck. But Patsy George pitched another fine game, allowing the Giants only 5 hits with 3 of the 5 hits coming off the bat of Sharron Eagle. Athletics 5 - Giants 2.

Saturday - The Indians, after a shaky start at the beginning of the year, have come a long way and are now fighting for the second spot behind the Athletics. Patty Geeorge pitching in her usual fine fashion, tossed a neat 3-hitter at the Indians. Ann Barcus of the Indians tried to keep them in the game with some fine catches, but this wasn't enough and the Athletics 5 - Indians 2.

This was a fine season in Little League, with all teams and managers putting forth all effort to insure a good season. For the people who supported Little League the year out - our heartfelt thanks. To the News Review - our thanks for the fine coverage of our games - and to the City and Recreation Department - our sincere appreciation for all their help. We, the managers of Little League, thank you! Till next year - thirty!

ics went on to win. Athletics 6 - Indians 4.

Sunday - In the first All-Star game to be played by Lassie League, the American League tangled with the National and what started out to be a real ball game turned into a rout as Margie Shanahan had 6 for 6 with a perfect day at bat. From then on in the pitching and fielding of the National League kept the American League in check. National League All Stars 24 - American League All Stars 5. The coaches of these teams did a fine job getting the girls ready.
